Report on Talk on the Relevance of Voting in Democracy

The Department of Political Science, in association with the Electoral Literacy Club, organized a talk on the relevance of voting in democracy. The event took place on January 25, 2024, at 10:30 AM in the audiovisual room. The resource person for the talk was Dileef P M, Village Field Assistant from Lokamaleswaram.

Mr. Dileef began by highlighting the fundamental importance of voting in a democratic society. He emphasized that voting is not just a right but also a responsibility of every citizen. He explained how voting is the cornerstone of democracy, as it allows people to choose their representatives and participate in the decision-making process of the government.

During the talk, Mr. Dileef also discussed the significance of voter education and awareness. He stressed the need for citizens to be well-informed about the political process, the candidates, and the issues at stake. He also highlighted the role of the Electoral Literacy Club in promoting voter education and awareness at the grassroots level.

The talk was followed by an interactive session, where students and faculty members had the opportunity to ask questions and share their views on the topic. The session was lively, with participants expressing their opinions on the current state of democracy and the importance of voting in shaping the future of the country.

Overall, the talk on the relevance of voting in democracy was highly informative and engaging. It served as a reminder to everyone present about the importance of their role as voters in upholding the democratic values of the nation.

Outcome of the Program

The talk on the relevance of voting in democracy was well-received by the audience. The students and faculty members who attended gained valuable insights into the importance of voting in a democratic society. Many participants expressed their appreciation for the informative session and highlighted the need for more such initiatives to raise awareness about the electoral process.

The event also helped in strengthening the collaboration between the Department of Political Science and the Electoral Literacy Club. It provided a platform for both organizations to work together towards promoting voter education and awareness among the youth.

Overall, the program was successful in achieving its objective of highlighting the significance of voting in democracy and encouraging active participation in the electoral process. It served as a reminder to everyone present about the importance of their role as responsible citizens in shaping the future of the country through their votes.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY CHRISTMAS 2K23 (2023-2024)

The Christmas celebration held on December - 21-2023 at the Sociology Department in the Rubby Jubilee Block was a festive and joyous occasion that brought together faculty, staff, and students to commemorate the holiday season. This report provides an overview of the event and highlights its outcomes. The Christmas celebration featured various activities and festivities designed to promote a sense of community and holiday cheer. These included. The department was beautifully decorated with festive ornaments, lights, and a Christmas tree, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. Christmas carols and music filled the air, adding to the festive ambiance and spreading holiday spirit throughout the department. Delicious holiday treats and refreshments were provided, including cookies, cakes, hot cocoa, and other seasonal delights. A gift exchange activity was organized, allowing participants to exchange small presents and tokens of appreciation with one another. The celebration provided an opportunity for faculty, staff, and students to socialize, network, and strengthen bonds within the departmental community.

Outcomes of the Celebration

1. Fostered we feeling
2. Promoted Inclusivity.
3. Boosted Moral values

Inter department competition
JACKFRUIT DAY CELEBRATION.

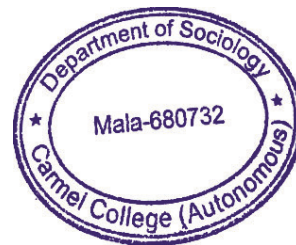

Date: 12/07/2023

The Department of sociology of Carmel College (Autonomous) organized an inter department program in connection with the Jackfruit Day Exhibition. The event was graced by the esteemed presence of the college principal, faculty members, students and other dignitaries. The occasion aimed to celebrate the versatility and significance of the jackfruit while promoting entrepreneurial skills among the students in different department. The inauguration ceremony commenced in the students corner The principal of the college inaugurated the function by cutting the ribbon, then took the stage and officially inaugurated the exhibition. Following the inauguration, attendees were led to the exhibition area, where a diverse array of jackfruit-based products and projects were showcased. The exhibition provided a unique platform for students in different department. It demonstrates their creativity and innovation, fostering a spirit of entrepreneurship among them. Visitors were impressed by the students' efforts to explore the untapped potential of jackfruit and convert it into marketable products. The Jackfruit Day Exhibition received overwhelming support and appreciation from all participants and visitors. The students of 2nd MA Sociology and 3rd BA Sociology presented a Seminar on the significance of Jackfruit in Sociology.

Outcomes

- The event promoted the use of jackfruit as a sustainable and abundant local resource, raising awareness about its economic and ecological significance.
- The event fostered community engagement.
- The seminar paper after the exhibition showcased the theoretical notions of Jackfruit and Sociology and it helps the students to engage more to the sociological interpretations related to jackfruit.

REPORT – PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST – THROUGH THE THIRD EYE

Date & Time : 12/01/2024, Before 4 PM

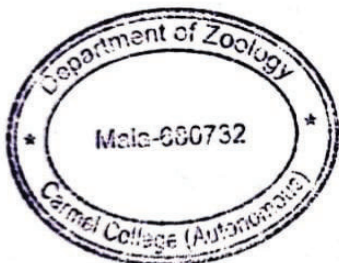

Venue : Online through Mail

Topic : Photography Contest Through the Third Eye

The Department of Zoology celebrated World Birds Day 2024 with great enthusiasm by organizing a captivating photography contest named "Through the Third Eye." The event aimed to foster a deeper appreciation for avian biodiversity and to showcase the beauty of birds through the lens of talented student photographers. Participants were encouraged to submit photos taken in their own camera. One student can send one picture, downloaded and edited pictures are not allowed, don't use filters while capturing these were some rules of the contest. The participants send the photos to department mail. Submissions showcased a wide array of bird species like common backyard birds, highlighting the significance of avian life. Some students from various department send their photos to mail. 8 students were participated in the competition. The photos were clear and beautiful.

OUTCOMES

- The contest serves as a platform to recognize and showcase the talents of student photographers
- Photography contests often bring together a community of like-minded individuals who share a passion for photography
- Participants could express their creativity and unique perspectives through their photographs
- Help to get ideas about the avian life for the students of various streams

World Ozone Day Celebration

15.09.2023

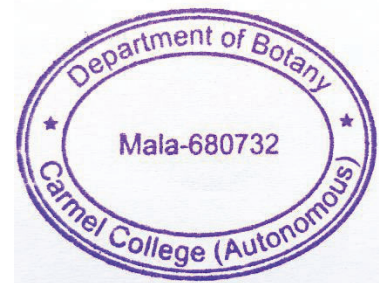

On the 15th of September 2023, the Biodiversity Club, under the adept coordination of Dr. Sinjumol Thomas and Dr. Roby T J, commemorated World Ozone Day. The event aimed to raise awareness about the importance of the ozone layer and its role in preserving life on Earth. Arya Gopi warmly welcomed the 33 participants, setting a positive atmosphere for the day. Dr. Sinjumol Thomas and Dr. Roby T J initiated the event with thoughtful opening remarks, highlighting the significance of World Ozone Day. They emphasized the crucial role of the ozone layer in protecting life from harmful ultraviolet (UV) radiation. Ms. Sneha E S, an adept II M.Sc. student, served as the resource person. Her keynote address delved into the science of ozone, its depletion, and the global efforts to address the ozone layer's protection. The presentation provided a comprehensive overview of the importance of the ozone layer. Participants engaged in interactive discussions on the causes and consequences of ozone layer depletion. Ms. Sneha E S led a comprehensive Q&A session, addressing queries and concerns raised by participants. This session fostered a deeper understanding of the scientific and practical aspects of ozone layer protection. 33 participants actively engaged in the program.

Outcome: The event successfully heightened awareness about the importance of the ozone layer and the ongoing efforts to protect it. Participants gained a deeper understanding of the environmental implications of ozone layer depletion. The positive outcomes, including increased awareness, educational impact, inspired action, and community engagement, highlight the success of the event in fulfilling its objectives.

World Wetland Day Celebration

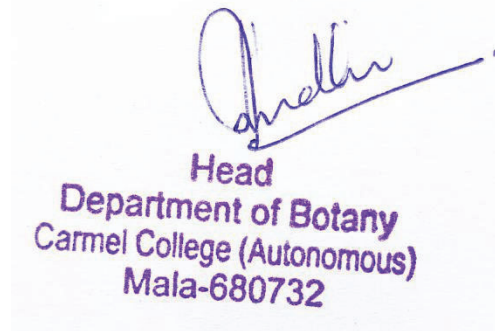

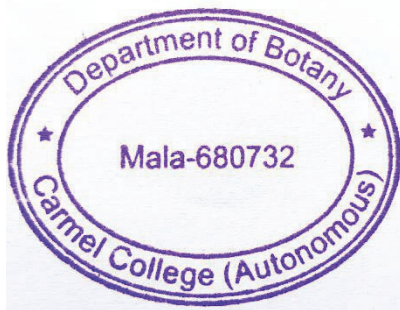

02.02.2024

The Department of Botany, in collaboration with the Biodiversity Club, orchestrated a celebration of World Wetland Day on February 2, 2024, held at the Botany Laboratory. Dr. Sinjumol Thomas was the coordinator of the programme. The focal point of the program was to accentuate the pivotal role of wetlands in sustaining life and biodiversity. Ms. Kripasree R, Research Scholar, extended a warm welcome to the gathering, setting a positive tone for the event. The Programme aiming to highlight the critical role of wetlands in sustaining life and biodiversity. Mrs. Kavya Vishnu, a distinguished Research Scholar from Carmel College (Autonomous) Mala, served as the resource person. Her expertise added depth to the discussions on wetland ecology and conservation. The theme for the celebration, "Wetlands and Water: Inseparable for Life," emphasized the intricate connection between wetlands and water resources. The speaker delved into the significance of wetlands in water purification, flood control, and their crucial role in mitigating climate change. The discussion also touched upon the vital role of wetlands in maintaining ecological balance. Different types of wetlands were explored during the program, providing attendees with a comprehensive understanding of the diversity within these ecosystems. The event garnered active participation 42 participants from school students and students from various colleges.

Outcome: The World Wetlands Day Talk of 2024 provided a platform for meaningful discussions, knowledge-sharing, and collaboration. Attendees left with a heightened awareness of the invaluable services wetlands provide and a shared commitment to actively contribute to their preservation. As we move forward, the insights gained from this event will undoubtedly contribute to ongoing efforts to safeguard wetlands for the benefit of present and future generations. The talk concluded with a resounding call to action. The audience was encouraged to take individual actions to support wetland conservation, such as reducing water consumption and participating in local restoration projects.

20.12.2023

In the spirit of Christmas celebrations, the Decoration Club of the Department of Botany, Carmel College (Autonomous) Mala organized a Christmas Bauble Making Competition on December 20, 2023. The coordinators of the program were Dr. Dhanya Thomas T T and Dr. Geo Joseph. The competition took place in the Botany Laboratory at 2:30 pm, providing a creative and festive space for participants to showcase their artistic talents. Seven participants enthusiastically took part in the competition, each bringing their unique ideas and skills to the event. The competition revolved around the creation of Christmas Baubles, allowing participants to infuse the holiday spirit into their artistic expressions. Seven individuals, students of the Department of Botany, showcased their creativity and craftsmanship in the competition. Ms. Niya Joy, a first-year B.Sc. Botany student, emerged as the winner of the competition, showcasing exceptional talent and creativity in her Christmas Bauble creation. The competition was filled with enthusiasm as participants engaged in the creative process, exchanging ideas and showcasing their artistic skills. The event provided a platform for participants to exchange creative ideas, fostering a collaborative and festive atmosphere within the Botany Laboratory.

Outcome: The Christmas Bauble Making Competition proved to be a resounding success with several positive outcomes. The active participation of students, the exchange of creative ideas, and the recognition of exceptional talent added to the festive spirit of the Christmas celebrations.

Beat Plastic Pollution in the Plastic Planet
05.06.2023

In observance of World Environment Day 2023, the Department of Botany, in collaboration with the Eco-friendly & Ethnobotany Club and IQAC, organized a seminar on the crucial topic, "Beat Plastic Pollution in the Plastic Planet." The event took place on June 5, 2023, at 2:00 pm in the College Auditorium. Ms. R Lakshmi, assistant conservator of forest, DFO Vazhachal was the resource person. The seminar commenced with a solemn prayer. Dr. Geo Joseph, the Coordinator of the seminar, delivered a warm welcome address, expressing gratitude to the participants and setting the stage for the impactful discussions to follow. Dr. Sr. Kochuthressia KP, the Principal-in-charge, delivered the presidential address, emphasizing the importance of addressing plastic pollution for the well-being of our environment. Dr. Bindhu KB, Head of the Department of Botany, delivered words of felicitation, highlighting the department's commitment to environmental awareness and sustainable practices. The seminar session was really interactive and interesting. Resource person shared her experience and it really motivated us.

Ms. R Lakshmi, Assistant Conservator of Forest, DFO Vazhachal, began the session with an insightful introduction to the theme, "Beat the Plastic Pollution." She elaborated on the adverse effects of plastic, including global warming and the dangers of microplastics. The presentation included alarming facts, such as the projected increase in the plastic content of oceans surpassing living content by 2030. Ms. R Lakshmi captivated the audience by sharing her personal experiences during the floods in Kerala, emphasizing the urgency of environmental protection. The resource person conveyed that World Environment Day is not merely a celebration but a reminder of our collective responsibility to protect nature for future generations. She stressed the need for sustainable development as a pivotal step toward making the world a better place. 52 participants actively participated in the programme. Ms. Greeshma KS, the student representative, expressed gratitude to all participants, organizers, and the resource person in a heartfelt vote of thanks, acknowledging the collective effort to spread awareness. The seminar concluded at 3:15 pm, concluding with the singing of the National Anthem.

OUTCOME: The seminar successfully educated participants on the urgent need to combat plastic pollution, fostering a sense of responsibility and commitment to sustainable practices. Ms. R Lakshmi's engaging presentation and personal anecdotes left a lasting impact, motivating attendees to take concrete actions in their daily lives to reduce plastic usage and contribute to a healthier planet. The event served as a meaningful observance of World Environment Day, aligning with the global call to "Beat Plastic Pollution."

FRUIT FEST
21.06.2023

The Department of Botany organized a splendid Fruit Fest in collaboration with the Eco-friendly and Ethno Botany Club. This celebration, held on the 21st of June 2023 in the student's corner, exemplified our commitment to sustainable practices and the exploration of botanical wonders. The event was skillfully coordinated by Dr. Geo Joseph and Dr. Roby T J, both esteemed members of our faculty. The Fruit Fest was inaugurated by our esteemed Principal, Dr. Sr. Kochuthressia K P, infusing the event with a sense of prestige and significance. The festivities commenced at 10 am in the student's corner, providing an enchanting setting for all attendees. Diverse arrays of fruits sourced from both local regions and beyond were thoughtfully exhibited for the entire college community to enjoy and appreciate. Each fruit's botanical name and respective family were meticulously displayed, offering valuable information to enlighten and educate the students. The coordination by Dr. Geo Joseph and Dr. Roby T J ensured the smooth execution of the Fruit Fest, creating an atmosphere of joy and learning. Their expertise in the botanical field added depth to the event. The active participation of 54 attendees, coupled with the insightful discussions, made the fest a memorable and enriching experience for all. 60 participants actively attended the fest.

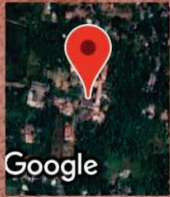

Outcome: The Fruit Fest proved to be a remarkable success, achieving various outcomes. Firstly, it served as an avenue to encourage youngsters to be environmentally conscious, emphasizing the health advantages of different types and varieties of tropical fruit. The event sparked discussions on organic produce and the environmental effects of food choices, fostering an appreciation for the value of ethical food production and consumption. Participants had a unique opportunity to learn about, investigate, and gain a comprehensive understanding of the importance of fruits in our lives. The Fest also provided a chance to explore rare tropical fruits not commonly seen locally, such as sour soup, mangoes teen, and more.

Organizing a Talk on World Soil Day

TOPIC – “Exploring the ground beneath our feet: Basics of soil on world soil day”
05.12.2023

The Department of Botany, in collaboration with the Bhoomithra Sena Club, organized a thought-provoking talk on World Soil Day on the topic "Exploring the Ground beneath Our Feet: Basics of Soil". Ms. Sujitha CS, an esteemed alumni of the Botany Department was the Resource Person. The event aimed to raise awareness about the significance of soil and its fundamental role in sustaining life on Earth. Students and faculty members eagerly gathered in the MSC Classroom, showing their enthusiasm for learning more about this vital component of our environment. Ms. Sujitha CS, an expert in the field, began the talk by emphasizing the importance of World Soil Day, which is celebrated annually on December 5th to promote the significance of soil and advocate for its sustainable management. She highlighted the critical role that soil plays in supporting plant growth, maintaining biodiversity, and providing essential ecosystem services. During the talk, Ms. Sujitha delved into the basics of soil, covering topics such as its composition, formation processes, and the various types of soil found worldwide. She explained the different horizons or layers of soil and how they contribute to its fertility and nutrient content. She also shed light on the intricate relationships between soil and plant life, discussing concepts such as soil fertility, nutrient cycling, and the importance of organic matter. She emphasized the need for sustainable agricultural practices that preserve soil health and prevent soil degradation. The interactive session encouraged students to actively participate and ask questions. Sujitha answered queries with expertise and enthusiasm, further enhancing the learning experience. She also shared practical insights and examples related to soil conservation and the role individuals can play in preserving this precious resource. 22 participants participated in the programme.

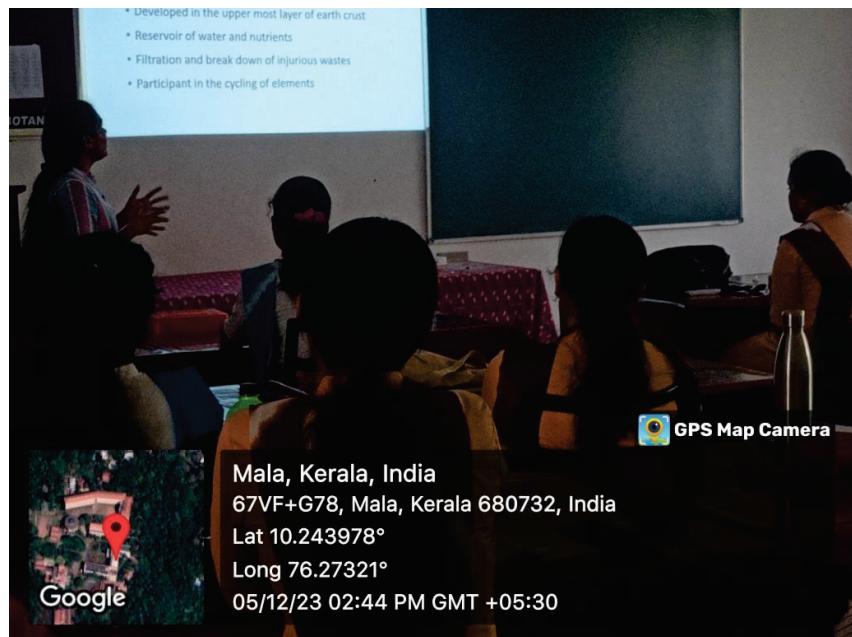

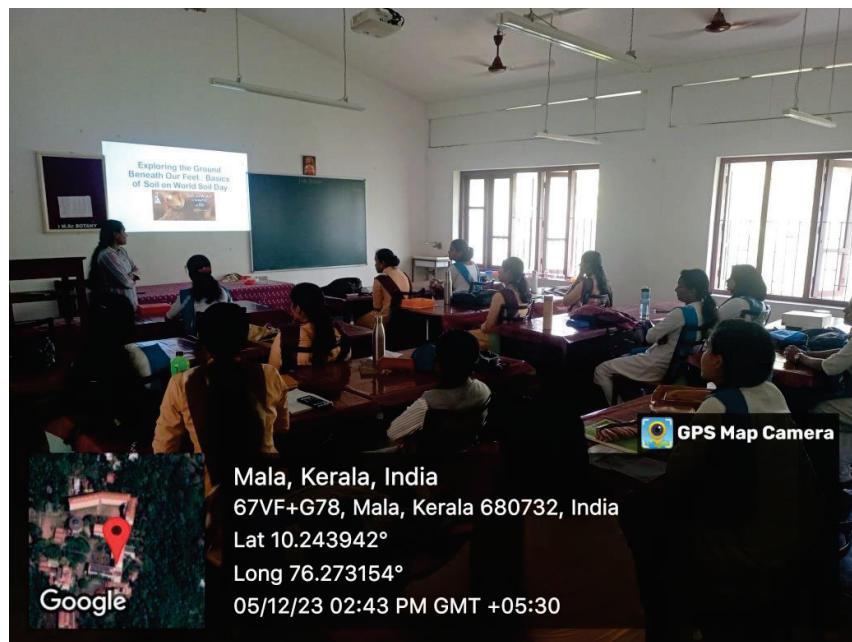

OUTCOME : The outcome of this program would be to provide participants with a basic understanding of soil and its importance in our lives. The talk will explore various aspects of soil, including its composition, types, and functions. Participants will learn about the role of soil in supporting plant growth, its impact on the environment, and its significance in agriculture and food production. The talk may also highlight the need for soil conservation and sustainable soil management practices. Overall, the aim is to create awareness and appreciation for the vital role soil plays in our daily lives.

Organizing
Orientation Programme on Beyond Borders: Elevate Your Education Journey
17.01.2024

The Department of Botany at Carmel College (Autonomous) organized an orientation program titled "Beyond Borders: Elevate Your Education Journey" on January 17, 2024, from 2:30 PM to 3:30 PM in the seminar hall. The program, coordinated by Assistant Professor Dr. Sinjumol Thomas, aimed to enlighten students about the prospects of international education. The main speaker for the event was Ms. Megha Benny, a distinguished alumna of Carmel College who is currently pursuing her second master's degree in Agricultural Bioscience at the Technical University of Munich, Germany. Ms. Megha Benny's journey from Carmel College to a prestigious international institution served as an inspiring example for attendees, demonstrating the possibilities available beyond conventional educational pathways.

During her session, Ms. Megha Benny shared her experiences, challenges, and triumphs in studying abroad, offering valuable insights into the benefits of international education for both undergraduate and postgraduate students. Her talk emphasized the importance of stepping outside one's comfort zone to explore diverse academic and cultural environments, ultimately broadening horizons and enhancing personal and professional growth. The program commenced with addresses from Dr. Bindhu K B, the Head of the Department of Botany, and Dr. Sr. Kochuthresia K P, the Principal of Carmel College. Both speakers underscored the significance of international exposure in today's competitive academic landscape and commended the initiative taken by the department to organize such an orientation program. Their words resonated with the audience, reinforcing the importance of embracing global perspectives in educational endeavors.

The welcome speech was delivered by Ms. Kripasree R, a research scholar, setting a positive tone for the program and expressing gratitude to the attendees and organizers. Ms. Arya Gopi, representing the postgraduate student body, extended the vote of thanks, appreciating the efforts put forth by the coordinators, speakers, and participants in making the event a success.

Following the informative sessions and speeches, Ms. Amiya Shaju, Assistant Professor in the Department of Botany, facilitated the distribution of certificates to the participants, acknowledging their active participation and engagement throughout the program. Additionally, the coordinators felicitated Ms. Megha Benny for her invaluable contribution to the event, presenting her with a token of appreciation as a gesture of gratitude. 42 participants attended the programme including faculty and students.

Outcome: The orientation program on "Beyond Borders: Elevate Your Education Journey" served as a platform for students to gain insights into the opportunities and benefits of international education. Ms. Megha Benny's inspiring narrative, coupled with the supportive addresses from departmental heads and the principal, left a lasting impact on the attendees, encouraging them to consider global perspectives in their educational pursuits and empowering them to unlock their full potential through real-world experiences.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

The Enactment of the Musical Play

CINDERELLA: A RETELLING (22-08-2023)

REPORT

The Department of English, under the auspices of Litworld Creations, staged a musical play, Cinderella: A Retelling, an adaptation of the classic fairy tale Cinderella, on August 22 2023, at 2:00 p.m. in the college auditorium. The play was revised to better suit the sensibilities of today's audience, and Cinderella in particular was reimagined as a young representative of the contemporary generation.

The Holy Child ICSE School, Snehagiri Principal, Dr. Sr. Lijo CMC (former Principal, Carmel College, Mala), the faculty and students of the school, as well as the staff and students of St. Antony's Higher Secondary School, Mala, attended the theatrical performance, which was presented for the entire campus. Family and friends of the students also bore witness to the play being staged.

Students of the Department have been divided into groups and assigned duties including stage arrangements, makeup and costume, light and sound, and dubbing, under the supervision of the faculty of the Department. Ms. Linda P. Joseph served as director and choreographer, and Ms. Keerthy Sophiya Ponnachan was the casting director of the play. The play received rave reviews from the audience.

The event is uploaded in the Department YouTube Channel EpicureanZ with the link: <https://youtu.be/edpTuVe5WWw>

Through this theatrical production, students were actively involved in various aspects of stage management, makeup, costume design, lighting, sound, and dubbing, fostering their leadership, communication, and teamwork skills. The inclusive nature of the event encouraged participation from diverse backgrounds, promoting values of collaboration and mutual respect. Moreover, the experience provided valuable insights into the world of performing arts, offering students a glimpse into potential career paths in theater and entertainment. It also emphasized the importance of experiential and participative learning, allowing students to apply theoretical knowledge in a practical setting. Overall, the event served as a platform for holistic development, nurturing students' creativity, confidence, and cultural appreciation while equipping them with valuable employability skills for their future endeavors in the arts and beyond.
